TORNADO LASHES 3 STATES, KILLING AT LEAST 21 PERSONS

Missouri Town Nearly Razed; Arkansas, Iowa Also Feel Sting.

By The Associated Press

WORTH, Mo., April 30—Tornadic winds whipped through small towns of Arkansas, Missouri and Iowa leaving at least 21 dead today, injuring more than 50 and causing thousands of dollars in property damage.

Hardest hit was this Missouri town with a population of 233. Thirteen persons were killed and approximately 45 injured. Only half a dozen buildings were left standing.

At least seven persons were killed in Arkansas.

A tornado also struck Clio in southwestern Iowa. No loss of life was reported.

The tornado that hit Worth swept through the center of the town wiping out the entire business district. Two of the town's three churches and its brick schoolhouse were demolished.

The community was in darkness until late last night when a mobile generator arrived from a neighboring town. Both the Salvation Army and the Red Cross set up stations.

Al Dopking, Associated Press reporter who also covered the recent Texas City, Tex., explosion disaster, described the devastation here as greater proportionately than that at the Texas town.

"There simply isn't anything left standing except a few homes at the south edge of town which the storm missed," Dopking said. "The center of town is wiped bare except for splintered wood, bricks and other debris."

N. A. Combs, a Worth mail carrier, said he doubted if the community would be rebuilt.

Mrs. N. A. Combs, 59, a nurse, who first saw the tornado high in the air said "it had a long tail." "When it hit the ground there was a swirling dark cloud. The point seemed to broaden and sweep everything before it. There was a terrifying roar."

Find Children Dead

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Pickering arrived shortly after the tornado hit and found their two children, Irene and Melvin, and Mrs. Pickering's mother dead in the ruins of their home.

"Everything we had is gone—the children, the home, the livestock, everything," said Pickering.

Fred Jennings died in a queer twist of the tornado.

Survivors reported he had joined six other persons in a cellar and was standing near the door when a gust of wind sucked him out and tossed him into a telephone line. His body was found 75 feet from the cellar with the wire wrapped tightly around his legs.

Plane Brings Plasma

A plane with 200 units of blood plasma was dispatched from Kansas City.

Mrs. Anne Trump, a school teacher, helped save her 16 pupils by ordering them to a storm cellar when she saw the tornado approach. A few minutes later the school house was destroyed.

In Arkansas, the business section of Bright Water was practically destroyed. Mr. and Mrs. Arch Blansett, operators of the general store, and Orville Springer were killed by collapsing buildings. The twister then ripped across a farming area east of Garfield, Ark. Garfield was not hit directly. Four persons were killed in the farming section.

Aid was rushed to the stricken areas from surrounding towns and the Rogers, Ark., unit of the National Guard was sent to Bright Water to help search the ruins and guard against possible looting.

OHIO ASSEMBLY HAS 5 BILLS

Considers Margarine, Labor, Bonus, Toll Highways, State Funds.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 30—The Ohio legislature had for consideration today proposals dealing with colored margarine, veterans' bonuses, toll highways, appropriations for state operations and tighter regulation of labor unions.

Housewives were interested in a bill up for a vote in the senate to permit manufacture of colored margarine which now must be tinted at home because dairy interests insist on "protection" of their butter market.

The senate had a measure by Sen. Ralph W. Winter (R-Medina) to create a commission authorized to construct super-highways to be paid for by toll charges.

House Gets Bonus Bill

The house received from the senate a proposal to pay war veterans $300,000,000 in bonuses while its military affairs committee sought agreement on a separate bonus plan financed either by gross receipts tax of one per cent on the total sales of business concerns or by special levies on intoxicants, soft drinks and cigarets.

The senate plans calls for setting aside $12,000,000 annually from the state treasury over a 15-year period with the balance raised from an additional assessment against real estate and personal property. Any deficit in the house programs also would be made up by a realty tax.

The senate-approved plan calls for payments to those with the rank of captain or below of $10 for each month of domestic service and $15 for foreign duty between Dec. 7, 1941 and Sept. 2, 1945, to a $400 maximum. Heirs of service dead would receive $400.

The house finance committee slashed $5,000,000 from the biennial budget bill last night bringing total net reductions to more than $22,800,000.

The house industrial relations committee reserved the lower chamber for a hearing tonight on a series of measures for tightening control of labor unions in anticipation of an announced mass demonstration by state CIO and AFL members.

Mexican President Calls All Aggression Threat To Americas

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 30—President Aleman of Mexico said today that aggression anywhere "imperils the peace of the Americas."

In his first formal address since arriving in the United States yesterday, Aleman told the Pan American's governing board that the American republics had "formed an association to live in peace and we do not wish to have our peace at the mercy of aggressors."

He spoke before a special session of the 21 diplomatic representatives, convened in his honor.

The international situation, he said, "shows how necessary the Americas are for the peace of the world and for the United Nations." He added:

"Our common love of freedom offers * * * the best foundation for the political solidarity in which we live. Without the support provided by that common consciousness we might be * * only a multiplicity of countries bound together by geography but dispersed by holding policies at variance with one another."

Earlier, Aleman paid homage to America's unknown soldier, laying a wreath on the Arlington National cemetery tomb in the name of the Mexican people.

Truman Terms Mexican Chief "A Grand Guy"

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 30—Miguel Aleman, president of Mexico, embarked on a sight-seeing tour of Washington today with President Truman giving him a cheery sendoff from the White House and calling him "a grand guy."

Mr. Truman shook hands with the visiting chief of state and members of his party at the exit of the south portico of the White House, where Mr. Aleman spent the night.

Waving to the Mexican president as the automobile procession left the grounds enroute to Arlington and a visit to the tomb of America's unknown soldier, Mr. Truman said to reporters:

"I think he's having a nice time," adding, "he's a grand guy."

Father Divine Throws Big Feed on Anniversary

By The Associated Press

PINE BROOK, N. J., April 30—Father Divine celebrated his first wedding anniversary with a seven-hour, 35-course feast for followers of his movement last night.

The Negro religious leader and his richly-dressed 23-year-old white wife sat at a huge table flanked by giant pink and white wedding cakes and bouquets of pink rosebuds as waitresses in white satin gowns passed out the food.

Above the couple shone a neon sign with the words, "God's Holy Communion Table of Palace Mission."

The bald, short evangelist told his followers his marriage was to promote universal love and peace.

$8,700,000,000 Spent By U. S. on Liquor in '46

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 30—Americans spent the unprecedented sum of $8,700,000,000 on whisky, beer and wine in 1946, the commerce department reported today.

That was an average of $80 for each person over 18 years old.

The total was $800,000,000 more than the previous record, set in 1945.

DEMANDS MADE BY CIVIC GROUP

Tax Cut, Debt Reduction and More Efficient Government Called For.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 30—Demands for tax cuts, debt reduction and a more efficient government were voiced today at the 35th annual meetings of the United States Chamber of Commerce.

Three speakers—a banker, an industrialist and a university educator—sounded the theme that continued high taxes will block peacetime prosperity by discouraging business expansion.

The 1948 federal budget of $37,500,000,000 proposed by President Truman was termed "clearly a budget out of control," asserted W. Randolph Burgess, vice chairman of the board of the National City bank of New York.

"The present tax system penalizes extra effort—removes the incentive for going the extra mile," Burgess told the 2,000 Chamber delegates in a prepared address.

"As a wartime measure high taxes could not be avoided. In time of peace and facing our present tasks they are bad medicine and ought to be reduced promptly. Small business would be perhaps the greatest beneficiary of lower surtaxes."

A budget of $25,000,000,000 could be achieved for fiscal 1948 if fullest economy were practiced, said Fred R. Fairchild, political economist of Harvard university.

Denounces Government Spending

Seconding Burgess' tax views, Fairchild denounced "lavish" government spending which he said will cause a tax load next year nearly seven times greater than that of prewar 1940 and eventually

INDIA PLEADS FOR UN TO GIVE JEWS VOICE

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 30—India reopened the Palestine debate here today with a plea to give the Jews a voice in the proceedings of the special assembly of the United Nations.

Noting that the assembly's 14-nation steering committee had heard the spokesmen of five Arab states present their views yesterday, Indian Delegate Asaf Ali asked:

"Where are the representatives of the Jewish people who will be affected? Where is Palestine?"

Ali declared the Palestine question should be approached seriously.

Ali also demanded representation for the Arabs of Palestine.

"I want to hear the Arabs of Palestine," he said. "Where are they? I do not know if my friends have put forward their viewpoint."

Both the British and American delegations were reported opposed to Jewish participation with a vote-less voice in the special assembly debate as long as it is solely concerned with the procedural step of setting up an inquiry committee.

Both western powers intimated that their present position against non-member representation in the assembly might be altered if the obduracy of the Palestine question forced onto the assembly floor by the Arab states' insistance on debating their demand for immediate independence of the Holy Land.

SENATE SNUBS MOVE TO SPLIT UP LABOR BILL

Turns Down Proposal To Divide Measure Into 4 Seperate Parts.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 30—The senate's Republican majority batted down today a proposal to split the big catch-all labor disputes bill into four separate measures.

Defeat of the proposal, sponsored by Senator Morse (R-Ore), gave the Republican leadership a victory in the first senate test on legislation to curb unions and strikes.

Morse proposed to send the pending omnibus measure back to the labor committee for a four-way division. He and those who backed him contended that it would assure some labor legislation during this session of congress.

They argued that President Truman might veto an omnibus bill if it contained provisions he did not like. They said he might accept some of the measures if four separate pieces of legislation were sent to him.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio), chairman of the G.O.P. policy committee, opposed Morse's move. He argued that since the house already has passed an omnibus labor bill it would be impractical for the senate to carve its measure into four bills.

"There is no reason for it except one," Taft declared, "and that is a political one," giving the President the right to reject portions of the program and accept others.

He said he believes Mr. Truman "has changed his position," since he vetoed the Case labor bill last year and "I hope very much he will sign the bill as it is presented to him."

Morse's move got major support from Democrats.

Democratic Leader Barkley, who backed the Morse move, announced his stand after a morning call at the White House.

The house already has passed an omnibus measure which imposes far-reaching restrictions on unions and strikes.

Morse's proposal would not change any of the provisions of the somewhat milder senate bill, but would direct the senate labor committee to break it up into four measures. These, to be sent back

LEWIS BEGINS NEW CONTRACT BATTLE

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 30—John L. Lewis began a new contract fight today with one-third of the soft coal industry determined to block another nationwide wage agreement.

The powerful Southern Coal Producers association served notice at government-sponsored preliminary talks yesterday that while it is eager to make a contract with Lewis separately, industry-wide bargaining is "impractical and undesirable" from the standpoint of its members.

The southerners enjoyed a 10-cent an hour wage differential until 1941 and, generally speaking, hope to make fewer concessions this year than some of the other operator groups have indicated they may be willing to grant Lewis.

The mine leader's first move was to challenge, in effect, the tonnage behind each of the operators lined up against a national agreement.

He demanded to know how much bituminous coal was produced by each of the 22 producer groups represented at the preliminary session. Some of the negotiators represent sub-groups of the larger operator associations.

Lewis' demand led to a recess in the discussions until 2 p. m., eastern standard time, today.

After that session, the United Mine Workers chief planned to meet with his 200-man policy committee, which he summoned formally for the first time since his present contract with the government was ratified last May—to end the 59-day spring strike.

The UMW convention in October "instructed" Lewis to settle for nothing less than a national contract, but the policy committee could concur in any new program of negotiation which seemed expedient.

House Cuts, Passes Foreign Relief Bill

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 30—The house passed a $200,000,000 foreign relief bill today after cutting $150,000,000 off the sum asked by the administration and clamping tight conditions on aid going to countries under Russian domination.

Final passage came on a roll call vote of 333 to 66.

The measure now goes to the senate where the foreign relations committee already has approved the full $350,000,000 figure.

Final passage came after the house shouted down a motion by Rep. O'Konski (R-Wis) to return the bill to committee. The house already had voted to trim the funds and fix distribution standards where Moscow might be involved.

The restrictions were first ordered tentatively yesterday in an outbreak of protests against the activities of Russia within the countries on her borders.

The action confirming the 43 per cent cut in the relief fund, also tentatively voted yesterday, came on a roll call vote of 225 to 165.

The provision to place tight conditions on relief for Russian-dominated nations was adopted on a roll call vote of 324 to 75.

Robbers Slip Through Net

No Trace Found of Men Who Robbed Marysville Loan Co. of $4,668.

Special to The Star

MARYSVILLE, April 30—The Columbus office of the state highway patrol and Union County Sheriff Homer Roosa said this morning nothing further has been seen of the two men who held up a loan company here and made away with $4,668.27 yesterday at 12:15 p. m.

Speeding west out of town in a blue sedan with Tennessee license plates, they apparently escaped before a highway patrol system of road blocks went into effect, or are hiding near Marysville authorities said.

The bandits, both short, well-dressed and armed, forced two employes and a customer into a back room at the Citizens Federal Savings and Loan Co. while they rifled cash drawers.

FBI agents from Cincinnati, Springfield and Columbus investigated the robbery yesterday. Sheriff Roosa said more federal agents were expected there today.

Miss Some Money

Reed Neer, manager of the loan company, said today the bandits missed about $500 in $100 and $50 bills, which were under a pile of checks in one of the drawers.

Cars from patrol stations at Columbus, Springfield, Marion and Mt. Vernon began blockading Marysville about 15 minutes after the holdup. An area about 50 miles in diameter with Marysville as the center was ringed. The entire state was alerted.

Alfred Asman of Marysville, driving near the loan office about 12:20 said he saw the sedan pull out from the curb and go through a red light, turning west. Sheriff Roose said several people reported seeing the speeding car heading west toward Bellefontaine.

Three Held at Bay

Everett Lorenz assistant secretary and Miss Diana Neer, clerk and daughter of the manager, were in the office when the men entered. They asked for Reed Neer, who was not there, and then drew guns. Mrs. Geraldine Peoples, a customer, walked in while the holdup was in progress and the three were herded into a back room.

The rear room opens on an areaway and Mr. Lorenz ran to the nearby apartment of Mrs. Harry Hanby and told her to call police.

She called John Baker, who operates a grocery store next to the loan office. He telephone authorities but when they arrived the bandits had gone.

ACCEPT PACTS GIVING RAISES OF $3 TO $4

None Belong to NFTW Group, But Hope of Lifting U. S. Strike Grows.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 30—Five unions of 43,000 telephone workers in New York and Pennsylvania called off strikes today, accepting contracts for wage increases of $3 to $4 a week.

None is affiliated with the National Federation of Telephone Workers—which called the nationwide tie-up April 7—but their actions aroused optimism among government labor conciliators for an early end to the strike of 300,000 NFTW unionists.

Joseph A. Beirne, president of the NFTW, said that it showed the Bell telephone system's "solid wall of opposition to wage increases is crumbling."

He made that comment in a statement as negotiations were resumed here aimed at bringing about a national settlement.

To Maintain Pickets

Beirne added that the NFTW's 30 unions "will maintain our picket lines until our entire dispute is settled."

A $6 weekly wage increase was the chief demand made by the New York and Pennsylvania unions as it is with the NFTW.

Four of these unions are in the New York City metropolitan area. It was announced that the agreement they reached provides:

Ending of the strike today; a general $4 weekly wage increase effective tomorrow; maintenance of union dues for members beginning tomorrow; pensions and benefits to remain undiminished during contract period; an extra day of vacation for a holiday falling during vacation period plus "improved one-week vacation treatment;"

No discrimination by either party for strike or non-strike activities; fringe issues to be negotiated at departmental levels; either party may reopen the wage question once during the one-year lifetime of the agreement.

$3 in Pennsylvania

The settlement in Pennsylvania was reached by a union with 6,000 maintenance workers. It agreed to $3 weekly wage increases for workers getting less than $51 and $4 for those now making over $51.

Frank J. Fitzsimmons, president of the Western Electric Employes' association, (a telephone affiliate) asserted that the New York-Pennsylvania agreements represented a "sell out of fellow telephone workers."

Fitzsimmons said he did not believe the rank and file in New York would ratify the settlement there.

Beirne said picket lines will be continued even in cities where non-NFTW unions make settlements.

The Pennsylvania Bell Company said 70 per cent of the workers had returned to work by 8 a. m. and "more are trickling back hourly." The settlement agreement was reached in the early morning hours.

An official participating in the Pennsylvania negotiations said the

POSTOFFICE AT GALENA RAZED

Fire Destroys Building but Mail Records Saved by Clerk.

By The Associated Press

GALENA, O., April 30 — A two-story building housing this Delaware county community's postoffice, a barbershop and three apartments was destroyed by fire early today.

The mail and postal records were saved by Leo Jordan, clerk of the postoffice, and four other townspeople. A temporary postoffice was set up in the town hall.

A restaurant and a house were damaged by the flames.

Unofficial estimates of the damage ranged from $20,000 to $30,000.

Volunteer firemen who formed a bucket brigade tried futilely to halt the flames with water from the town pump. This supply, however, was too meager, and when the Sunbury and Westerville fire departments arrived they set up a pump in Big Walnut creek.

Families in the three apartments lost all their household goods.

The cause of the fire which broke out at 3 a. m. was not determined immediately. The community has approximately 400 inhabitants.

COLONEL GIVEN 15 YEARS IN GEM THEFT

By The Associated Press

FRANKFURT, Germany, April 30 — Col. Jack W. Durant was sentenced today to 15 years at hard labor and dismissal from the U. S. Army for participation in the bizarre theft of $1,500,000 of Hesse royal jewels from Kronberg castle.

After deliberating for two days, the U. S. military court of eight colonels convicted the 37-year-old Chicago air force officer on eight counts. These included theft, smuggling jewels into the United States without payment of customs, and signing another officer's name without authority in an attempt to hasten a discharge from the army.

Specifically, the court found Durant guilty of stealing only $10,000 worth of the jewel collection, which the army prosecution valued at $1,500,000.

Durant's wife, former WAC Capt. Kathleen B. Nash, a former Country club manager at Phoenix, Ariz., was sentenced to five years at hard labor last Sept. 27 for her part in the embezzlement. She had been manager of the castle the U. S. army had requisitioned the castle for an officers' club.

Teacher Gets Pupils Into Cave Just As Tornado Approaches

By The Associated Press

WORTH, Mo., April 30—A 37-year-old school teacher was the heroine today of this tornado-battered and sorrowing town where almost a fourth of the population was killed or injured by yesterday's devastating winds.

Mrs. Anne Trump was credited with saving the lives of her pupils by herding them into a cave just before the tornado struck demolishing the school house.

Warned by a passerby that a strong wind was approaching, Mrs. Trump rushed outside with Max Lee Murdock, one of the pupils. They saw a cloud resembling a funnel. Mrs. Trump said it looked "just like pictures we had studied in science classes."

"Had To Find Cave"

"I knew we had to find a cave and I tried to recall one nearby.

"I finally thought of one about half a block away at Bill Setzer's and I started the children into the cave.

"As soon as I got the children in, I started toward my mother's house. My mother is an invalid and I knew she would need help. I got about a block from Harry Harris' house and I was walking right into the storm.

"Mrs. Harris was sick in bed and her sister Mrs. Sam Holmes came to the door. Just then the house began to shake and I ran around to the back.

"Back Porch Fell In"

"The back porch fell on me, knocking me to the ground. I stayed under it and covered my head with my hands."

When Mrs. Trump finally got home she found her mother dazed but unhurt.

The mother, although an invalid, had managed to move from the west part of the house which probably saved her life because that side was damaged.

Back at the cave, Max Lee Murdock related, the older pupils herded the younger ones in first and closed the door behind them. The oldest was Jerry Allee, 14, and the youngest Beulah Mabbitt, 6, a first grader.

Max said he and Jerry got through the doorway as the storm hit, slamming the door just as the cover over it was blown off. The smaller children cried, he said, but the older ones tried to comfort them.

Visitors To House and Senate Galleries Often Feel Cheated

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON, April 30—Thousands come here to see congress at work.

They see only a part of it. It doesn't look like much work to them.

They feel cheated right away.

They wander into the senate gallery, take a seat, and look down upon the senators at work.

There are 96 senators but the visitor looks down at perhaps only five or six, one talking and the others listening or reading.

Pretty often, except at voting time, there are only that many on the floor at one time.

Mistaken for Clerks

The other senators stroll in and stroll out. The visitors, not having seen them before, can't tell whether they're senators or clerks.

A senator flings open a swinging door in the back, ducks in, listens to the speech for a second, ducks right back out.

(He's either not interested in the subject or he's heard this same speech or something like it before.)

Or a senator pops through the swinging doors, catches an earful, strides across the floor, disappears through other swinging doors.

This steady activity—ducking in, sobbing out, marching across the floor, disappearing—goes on daily.

So the visitor, a little bewildered, withdraws quietly and, patiently plodding through the capitol halls, lands in the house gallery.

More Men on Floor

This looks better to him. There are more men on the house floor.

(There are 435 house members, so more of them are bound to be on the floor at any one time than you'll find in the senate.)

The visitor cocks an ear to hear what that congressman with the waving arms is yelling at the other congressmen.

Some of them may be reading newspapers. Some will be sitting with dead-pan faces. Some may be listening sharply.

Once more the visitor wanders away, thinking maybe so this is congress.

What he doesn't know is that most of the senators and representatives are busy elsewhere, in committees or in their offices.

The visitor might get a better idea of congress at work if he took the trouble to visit the committee meetings and listen in there.

SCHOOL BILL SHORN AGAIN

Ohio House Cuts $5,000,000 from Daniels-Cramer Measure.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 30—The Daniels-Cramer school bill came from the house education committee today shorn of another $5,000,000 but providing $83,000,000 a year for the foundation program.

The measure—still some $3,000,000-a-year above Gov. Thomas J. Herbert's "recommendation" now goes to the house floor for passage, probably next week. Leaders said it could not be considered this week.

The reduction was accomplished principally by trimming the flat distribution to $50 for each elementary pupil and to $60 for each high school student, and the equalization grant to $100 and $120, respectively.

Both distributions would be on the basis of average daily enrollment instead of the present average daily attendance.

As the bill came from the senate, where it was passed April 2, it called for flat distribution of $55 for each elementary pupil and $66 for high school students, with equalization grants of $105 and $125 respectively.

Before senate passage the original measure was slashed from an estimated $100,000,000 appropriation to $83,000,000, where the house committee whittled further last night. Schools got $58,000,000 last year.

Also eliminated by the house committee was the $2,000 minimum salary guarantee for teachers holding bachelor degrees. Members said a strict requirement for school boards to pay teachers 75 per cent of money received from salaries assured average increases of $450 for instructors.

The bill also increases from 3 to 4½ mills the minimum real estate levy for local participation in the foundation program.

FUND TO AID QUEST FOR REBATES O.K.'D

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 29—The house appropriations committee approved a $30,000 fund today for a justice department attempt to collect perhaps $2,000,000,000 of freight refunds from 964 railroads.

The money was included in a $55,478,658 miscellaneous appropriation bill to meet deficiencies in various agency funds for the fiscal year ending June 30.

To prosecute the railroad rate cases, the justice department's anti-trust division requested $60,000.

David O. Mathew, special assistant to the attorney general, told the committee the government claims it was overcharged on huge shipments of material during the war years. He estimated the government might regain as much as $2,000,000,000 and said two years may be required to finish the task, already started with $50,000 advanced to the department from the President's special funds.

The justice department asked the interstate commerce commission Monday to investigate the claim and determine whether there should be refunds.

The Association of American Railroads has denied the government's contention that it was charged more than private shippers on some classes of freight. William T. Faricy, association president said in a statement "we are glad that this question is to come before the proper tribunal for decision."

You Don't Call Porters "George" Any More

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Writer

ABOARD A PULLMAN CAR NEARING INDIANAPOLIS—It isn't fashionable to call Pullman porters "George" any more.

"Used to be 90 per cent of our customers called us 'George'," said Chester Walker, who has "made all the states" in 22 years of railroad portering. "But it happens very seldom now. We have our own namecards in the car."

Hal Boyle

Walker, a slim, dignified and kindly man of 59, was born on Lincoln's birthday in Nashville, Tenn., in 1888. He works out of Indianapolis.

Dealing with the traveling public for more than two score years hasn't soured his temperament.

"You have to be a diplomat in handling people," he said. "But I enjoy my job. Most people are nice to handle. It's very seldom you get a grouch."

Women Better Tippers

Walker said that traveling salesmen are the best consistent tippers but—surprisingly—that women tip more than men.

"The average woman doesn't know the real value of money," he smiled, "but a man works for it and knows how hard it is to get."

He said that only one out of a dozen passengers tip as much as 50 cents for an overnight journey and two give nothing at all. He figured himself that a 35-cent tip was "just about right for an overnight journey but we don't count on it.

Veteran porters make up to 65 cents an hour, work 240 hours a month, they receive no pay for the two to four hours they sleep during an overnight train trip.

Boisterous men drinkers are the most troublesome passengers to porters but the occasional intoxicated woman is worse—she is harder to cope with. Day in and day out the most annoying passenger is the one who rides the buzzer while the porter is making up beds.

90 Per Cent No Trouble

"But 90 per cent of the people are no trouble at all," said Walker. "I like especially to haul women and children and elderly people. "I like to kid the old folks and make it pleasant for them."

Portering on a crack railway train is largely an unexciting business of making beds, shining shoes and heating the baby bottles. Walker has never been trainsick, never been in a bad train wreck. About the only thing out of the routine he remembers are the two times he helped give first aid when his Pullman berths unexpectedly had to be used as emergency maternity wards.

"One doctor we called delivered a nice boy baby for a lady while we held the train in Grand Central station in New York," he said, "she was in a lower berth. That was luck for her. Same thing happened once going into Pocatello, Idaho. She was in a lower berth too. No, I never heard of a baby being born in an upper berth."

"Outstanding Mother"

The lady who can accomplish that feat will win our vote for the outstanding American mother of any year—yes, even if she is a circus midget.

Walker said porters can retire at 65 if they have 30 years' service but they "still have to scuffle around a bit" to make their pension money cover their needs. He himself doesn't want to quit as long as his back holds out.

"Even now when I lay off for a week," he said," I get lonesome for the trains when I hear them whistle at night."

Members of Ladies auxiliary to Roosevelt Lodge No. 1281 and Local No. 1068, Machinists, AFL affiliate, presented a program and later were hostesses for a lunch at a meeting of the Old Age Pension Society of Marion County Friday afternoon in the Eagles' hall. Members of the society also took part in the program.

A waltz, "Blush Rose," was played by Mrs. Van Asbeck and Mrs. Lucille Cockerl. Rev. Mary Burroughs, who was the guest speaker, also sang a solo, "The Love of God," accompanied on the accordion by Mrs. Raymond Donough. The latter also played two selections, "Down From His Glory" and "Stranger by the Sea." A patriotic and devotional service opened the meeting for which Arthur Hershner, president, presided. Announcement was made of the annual convention of the Townsend organization to be held at Washington, D. C. in June. The closing prayer was by Mrs. Elizabeth Howser.

Make This Home Recipe To Take Off Ugly Fat

It's simple. It's amazing how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of Rexall Reducet Concentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoonfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if noticeable pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. You don't have to starve yourself; eat sensibly per instructions on bottle. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly blues disappear—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearance and active. Adv.

WIN A TRIP AROUND THE WORLD

PAN AMERICAN CLIPPER
FOR TWO! OR $10,000 CASH!

ALL THESE OTHER PRIZES!
2 PRIZES—each a 1947 DeLuxe Ford Sedan
25 PRIZES— $100.00 each
1,000 PRIZES— $10.00 each

Because this amazing new-type lard is super-superior, Swift has given it a New Name to be announced soon. Don't you think it's a good idea? If you do, just complete the jingle below and enter this great Prize Contest.

YES! I'D LIKE A SPECIAL NAME TO CALL THIS FINER SHORTENING BY.
SWIFT'S BLAND LARD OUT-PERFORMS THEM ALL.
(Fill in that line, to rhyme with "by". For example: "No praise can be too High.")

TO HELP YOU WIN

First, read these sensational facts about Swift's Bland Lard. They explain why we have decided to give this remarkable shortening a new name that really does it justice. And they'll help you get ideas for a good last line to the jingle.

TASTELESS, ODORLESS. Special refining methods make this creamy new-type lard completely bland.

CREAMS EASILY. Yes, this lard makes grand cakes. It's tasteless, odorless, and creamable.

DEEP-FRIES WITHOUT SMOKING. The smoke point of Swift's Bland Lard is even higher than that of costliest shortenings.

NEEDS NO REFRIGERATION. A patented Swift process keeps this amazing lard fresh at room temperature. It's always easy to work with.

MAKES EXTRA FLAKY PIECRUST. Scientific tests prove that pastry made with Swift's Bland Lard is extra flaky.

NUTRITIOUS! DIGESTIBLE! No other shortening is more digestible than Swift's Bland Lard. And it contains two vital nutritional elements in superior quantity to shortenings of other types.

Now, read the jingle carefully and start thinking about a last line. Your line should rhyme with the word "by". For example: "No praise can be too high"; or "For perfect cakes and pie". It's a good idea to make a list of words that rhyme with "by". And it's easy—there are lots of rhyming words.

DEADLOCK AT MOSCOW

Molotov Bows To America's Marshall As Iciest Diplomat

This is the third of a series reviewing the personalities and difficulties of the just concluded Big Four foreign ministers conference at Moscow by members of The Associated Press team that covered the event.

* * *

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Associated Press Writer

MOSCOW, April 30—Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov, the man with the scowl, left during the Moscow conference its worldwide reputation for being the coldest blooded present day diplomat.

The man who overtowered him in coldness was U. S. Secretary of State George C. Marshall, whose self-discipline is so complete his impassive face often has no meaningful expression.

Marshall brought one new element to American diplomacy, which otherwise he developed along traditional lines. It was the quality of personal indifference to success for the sake of success, a sort of don't-give-a-damn attitude.

Marshall made clear to his advisers on his arrival here he was going to base his policies on the strength of American power and prestige, and while he hoped the other foreign ministers would go along, he would never entreat them to do so. Not since the United States established diplomatic relations with the Soviet Union in the early Roosevelt days had it presented such an armor-plated front toward the Kremlin.

British, French More Sensitive

Neither British Foreign secretary Ernest Bevin nor French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault, whose policies were aligned with those of Marshall, were able to take such a cold blooded view because they are more sensitive to Communist and leftwing criticism back home. However, as the United States backed France on such things as the Saar and demands for coal, Bidault became increasingly independent of that criticism.

If you had walked into the meeting room at Moscow during the session you would have seen little of these forces on the surface. Some veterans of these council of foreign ministers gatherings—which began in the fall of 1945 in London—said they had never known such dull discussions.

What you would have seen were Molotov, Marshall, Bidault and Bevin sitting at the "four corners" of a round table, flanked by advisers and carrying on the world's business in English, French and Russian.

The scene photographs itself on the mind like this:

Russians Look Military

Bevin sitting in the midst of the British delegation and opposite Marshall is the most active and jumpy of the four.

The old-time labor leader is the dean of the group, quick to attack a weak point. He can be ruthless in argument, is hotter-tempered than Molotov. He is supported and guided by a skilled staff from the Brtish foreign office, probably the best trained, most expert diplomatic staff in the world.

Bidault carries out his heart-breaking task of representing once great but now weak France with debonair grace which is sometimes sardonic. He talks the least of the four, but in this session, as compared with previous parleys in New York, Paris and London, he presented a firmer French policy, believing his country united at least on being sure Germany does not bounce back again this time.

The striking fact about all four men is that they all are "common men" who rose to power on the basis of personal strength and leadership qualities—Bidault a former professor and underground fighter, Marshall the professional army man, Old Bolshevik Molotov who holds his revolutionist habit of doing most of his work at night, and great-shouldered Ernie Bevin, product of the rough-and-tumble of British socialism.

Interest on Marshall

The most interest was centered here on Marshall because he was the freshman at the council table, despite his 66 years.

Former Secretary of State James F. Byrnes was a warm-hearted eager negotiator who liked to have things go well and usually was eager to stop for a friendly drink after the day's meeting was done.

Not so Marshall. The moment the conference broke up at Aviation house, he dashed for the cloak room, the door and home. Thus he beat the departure of Molotov, who sometimes but seldom visited the bar. Bidault and Bevin were more likely to carry on the old, friendly custom of early council gatherings.

At Spaso house, where he had the master bedroom ordinarily occupied by Amassador Smith, Marshall usually spent the evening with a few of the American group that mostly included Dulles, Bohlen, and Smith. He retired at midevening.

In this disciplined schedule, Marshall broke entirely with the old system of Jimmy Byrnes, who worked from early morning to midnight at these conferences and tended to wear himself out.

Starst Day at 9

Starting his day about 8 a. m. Marshall studied documents, conferred with advisers, determined policies he would pursue and from which he never deviated, and got off his daily report to President Truman.

Among Marshall's advisers, Dulles, Cohen, Smith and Gen. Lucius D. Clay, American commander in Europe, undoubtedly exercised the most influence. At one point before Clay returned to his Berlin duties, Dulles and Clay reportedly split sharply over the basic American attitude toward Germany and Europe.

Clay primarily emphasized German policies, believing that the ultimate reactions of the German people would determine the fate of Europe. Dulles, whose views seemed to have prevailed for the time being, put the initial emphasis on wooing French support for United States and British policies.

Bidault seemed to have gone along quickly with his work papers to his bedroom but generally avoided conducting any business in the evening.

Marshall Extremely Cautious

Marshall was so cautious in his handling of United States foreign policy at the conference he never liked to depart from conservative methods. Some of this was due to his lack of confidence in his knowledge of diplomacy, which he frankly admitted on occasion, and some to his desire to avoid any more Potsdams or Yaltas, sources of so much later disagreement.

Marshall promoted only one "secret" meeting of the Big Four, and he delayed until the last possible moment his private talk with Prime Minister Stalin. His final decision to go to the Kremlin apparently was influenced mostly by the opinion of his advisers that it would look bad if he delayed longer and that the Soviets might misinterpret his course as a discourtesy.

Marshall ran his delegation along military lines. At the outset he made Smith No. 1 man of the delegation and directed staff work through him.

Even with his topmost advisers he showed his oldtime army decisiveness occasionally. Sometimes, when diplomats wrangled long over what move to make next, Marshall would get up and leave the room, asking to be informed when the recommendation was agreed upon.

Smith, who had been his army staff secretary, understood his methods better than the others. One day Marshall listened to Smith advise him for 20 minutes, then made a contrary decision and said, "I've decided, Smith, now to go do it." (Incidentally, Marshall always uses last name, avoiding first name intimacy).

A Matter of Shirts

GEN. MARSHALL has spiked the rumor that the United States doesn't have a foreign policy. His report on his first rassle with the Russian bear makes it obvious that the foreign policy of the United States is the same one it always has had.

Popular demand for a foreign policy in recent years actually has been demand for action within the terms of a policy which never was abandoned by either the people or congress—the policy of helping nations trying to advance the practice of popular government and being genuinely friendly with the United States.

There has been little deviation from this policy over the years, but a vast deal of confusion about its application in particular cases. There has been Argentina, for example. Vacillating administration of American foreign policy has made it impossible for Latin Americans to understand what the United States was trying to do about Argentina.

Germany, Italy, Japan and Spain have experienced the consequences of vacillating administration of United States foreign policy. But all the time the policy was fundamentally unchanged. The United States was devoted to the encouragement of government based on popular participation. It was only the slippery expediencies of altering officialdom which made it seem sometimes that American foreign policy was lacking.

The Soviet Union has provided a foil for American determination to give up hedging on basic principles. The Stalin government, which has been alternately frowned on and appeased, depending on circumstances, has cleared the air by being 100 per cent consistent in its attitude toward the United States. It has made vacillation seem not only silly but dangerous.

The Soviet Union has convinced the United States that there was great merit in its traditional foreign policy of cooperating with states which put a premium on popular sovereignty. The negotiators in the Kremlin have convinced Gen. Marshall and apparently the Truman administration there is nothing to be gained by underestimating Russian obstructionism. It is not a thing to be forgiven or ignored, but a challenge to be met with the utmost candor and firmness.

What has occurred is, in effect, the rediscovery of something found out a long time ago. The Russians, no matter what system of politics or economics they're using, are difficult to deal with in relations with occidental societies. As Kipling put it, when a Russian tucks in his shirt-tail and tries to behave like the most easterly of the western peoples, instead of the most westerly of the eastern peoples, he is a racial anomaly.

Gen. Marshall proposes that we keep our shirts on when the Russians tuck their shirts in. Henry Wallace proposes that we give the Russians our shirts to appease them. Wallace merely has made it easier for Americans to agree with Marshall that we should let the Russians be Russians and not try to beat them at their own enigmatic game. It's tough enough to figure out where they stand without having to figure out where we stand too.

Economic Statesmanship

IF THE United States is going to depend on wage-raise formulas and patterns as a substitute for genuine collective bargaining there needs to be a high order of economic statesmanship among those who do the leading in this game of follow-the-leader.

"Big steel," which itself seemed to take its cue from "big electricity," has set a pattern of 15 cents an hour increase. This formula has been adopted by "big automobile" and will have a considerable impact on "big coal." The repercussions of so-called basic settlements are beyond comprehension. WLB really started something with its "little steel" formula.

One gauges the importance of formula settlements best by imagining what a different formula would mean. Suppose electricity and steel, sobered by responsibility for national welfare, had decided to split the difference between union demands for more money and public requests for lower prices. There would have been the same repercussions, the same follow-the-leader impulse. The American people would find it easier than they are finding it now to speak of economic statesmanship without wondering if that's the right name for what they're getting.

News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON

G.O.P. Factions Must Face Labor Problem.

WASHINGTON, April 30—The Republicans could not keep their fingers on the spout of the tea kettle forever. The heat generated underneath the union reform legislation in the senate has caused the Dewey people and the Taft people to let go in a hurry and start looking at each other.

The Dewey senator, Irving Ives, joined the other freshmen senators at a private unreported lunch last Thursday. Discussion ran to the question whether the house bill or even the milder Taft-Ball amendments were too strenuous. Ives took the position they were.

His yearling listeners got the impression he was not interested politically in undermining the Taft-Ball group or in thwarting the house leadership of Speaker Joe Martin. He seemed to them a serious student of the problem. As one said: "Ives loosened his lip and talked." His argument was that union leadership need only be taken out from under the whip of the leaders and restored to the men. Apparently he did not talk much about public rights, but measured the various amendments to his mild and loose yardstick of the rights of unions and management.

The yearlings were much impressed both with Ives and with his argument.

Ives Influence

This incident reveals the true nature of the whole background of the Republican trouble in the senate with the union reform bill. Senator Taft would no doubt accept the firm house bill if he could, but the Ives attitude has permeated a considerable section of the Republican side, particularly the newcomers. They say, in general, they have no objection to the Taft leadership, but greatly admire it. Taft is known among them as honest, the best debater on the Republican side, and they say they know he gets his economics straight before he starts talking. But also, they believe the Ives position has not been inspired by opposition to Taft but is an expression of what Ives (meaning also Dewey) actually believes. Thus they have come to the conclusion that if they give the employer full rights of discussion with the unions, make the unions liable for damages and open to civil suits, and perhaps one or two other minor things, they can get away from outlawing the closed shop and drastic action.

The Taft, Ball and no doubt also the Martin groups believe the Republicans were elected primarily to do this job of union reform and would fail of their duty if they produced anything less than a bill with full prospects of effectiveness. No doubt they would rather do more than might ultimately prove to be necessary, in order to avoid any charge they have been weak or fearful or have shirked the responsibility which the electorate assigned them.

Thus the fight wages in what might be called the non-political sincerity of all concerned—as it appears to the average freshman Republican senator.

Democrats Favorable

The matter is of grave importance to the final form of the legislation. In the house even the Democrats went for a firm bill, and the house passed it with a majority which makes certain of final approval over a veto. But on the senate side, the insiders there have been calculating there are enough Republican senators who will vote with the old New Deal crowd to prevent passage of any strong bill over a veto. This rebelling group of Republican votes, moreover, seems likely to curtail the strength of the bill before it is sent to Mr. Truman, for the final form of the congressional legislation must be written in a conference between the senators and representatives after the senate has acted. Thus the bill to be sent to the White House is apt to be halfway between the bi-partisan measure which the house approved 3 to 1, and whatever Taft has been able finally to get through the senate.

The strategic importance of this affair lies in the fact that the Taft people must get the support of the Dewey and yearling groups for their bill, else it will fail of two-thirds majority in the senate, in which case the whole legislation would fail of enactment over a veto and congress would have to start all over again.

WAA Now Has Stocks In Stock

The war assets administration has announced the sale of several hundred pair of surplus leg irons.

These are just the thing for somnambulists.

They also could implement one of the more drastic theories on what's to be done about Wallace.

And, of course, they are the perfect answer for the hostess always on the lookout for something novel in bridge prizes.

But the greatest demand will undoubtedly come from ladies afflicted with philandering spouses. For leg irons are more effective than the loveliest schoolgirl complexion for keeping hubby home nights.

Yessir, with these handy little contrivances, plus a small job of masonry, even the most restive citizen may become attached to his hearth and fireside.

Who knows . . . . In time, leg irons may come to be standard equipment at all double-ring ceremonies.

THE LITTLE SAVAGE

Politics and the Budget

By RAYMOND MOLEY

IT IS not pleasant to ascribe political motives to anyone, but President Truman's stubborn attitude toward the budget makes such inferences inevitable.

It is clear that the economic facts have changed considerably since January. The treasury will collect $2,300,000,000 more than was anticipated. Requirements for government expenditures are less than they were in January. Therefore, those who doubted the wisdom of tax cuts—and that includes the writer of this column—should change their minds.

President Truman's statement of April 19 shows a reduction in expenditures of $1,250,000,000 and an increase in prospective receipts of $2,300,000,000. This is a net gain of $3,550,000,000. With further prospective Republican cuts, it provides very good news indeed. There will be enough money for debt reduction, tax cuts and a comfortable surplus besides. There will also be a reasonable amount for world-saving in Greece, Turkey, et al.

Natural Interpretation

The only inference which can be drawn from Truman's position is that his administration wants to bring out good news in January 1948 to help its prospects in the election of that year and to take from the Republicans all credit for lower taxes.

The feeling that politics is a factor in the budget picture is deepened by a statement made in the house by Congrssman Robert F. Jones of Ohio. He claims that Secretary Krug's assertions that reductions in funds for various public works projects would injure the West are unfounded. Jones say, further, that adequate money for continuing such projects is already appropriated and is frozen until such time in 1948 when the administration chooses to turn it loose.

This suggests an old political maneuver, continually practiced by President Roosevelt. In 1935, for example, a bonus bill for $2,000,000,000 was passed. Roosevelt vetoed the bill with one of his most powerful messages. He labored hard with the senate and succeeded in getting that body to sustain the veto. Then, in January 1936 the bill passed again, and, although Roosevelt vetoed it, he did not repeat his fight. The money poured out and, no doubt, greatly swelled the vote which elected him over Landon.

Looking Ahead

Few will remember in 1948 what President Truman said about tax cuts in 1947. But when October 1948 comes around, Democratic orators will be telling the people that Truman, not the Republicans, cut their taxes.

The citizen who looks beyond both parties to the solid necessity of sound finances will hope that the cuts can come as soon as possible. The time to get our house in order is here and now. If a recession comes in late 1947 or early 1948, economies may be out of the question. Taxes must remain high in most of the states and cities because new roads and many other improvements must be got under way.

Between the respective political objectives of the two parties, in this instance, the Republicans have more to offer.

It is estimated that more than nine of every ten children have one or more decayed teeth by the time they reach the age of six.

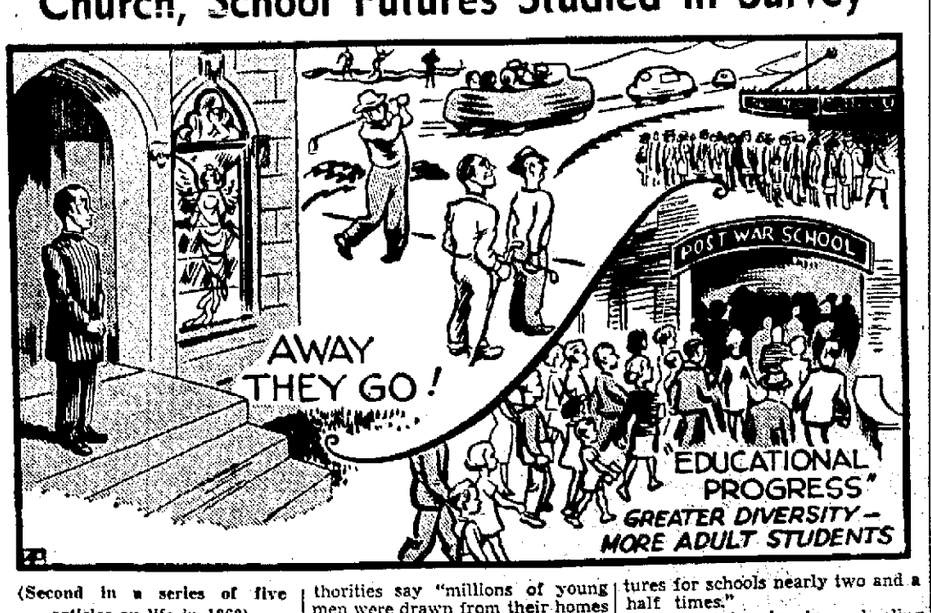
Church, School Futures Studied in Survey



(Second in a series of five articles on life in 1960)

• • •

By JOHN L. SPRINGER
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK—The war has had a "depressing effect" on the growth of the church, and unless existing trends are reversed organized religion will hold a "small and declining" place in American economic life in the coming years, according to authorities of the Twentieth Century Fund.

The Fund experts say that contributions to churches and welfare institutions in recent years have totalled "little more" than $1.50 out of every $100 spent by consumers—an amount less than that for either tobacco or alcoholic drinks. Despite rises in the national income since 1933, they declare, there has been a steady decrease in the percentage given the church.

In a chapter devoted to religion and social welfare in an exhaustive survey of "America's Needs and Resources," the Fund sugests that church attendance, rather than church "membership" would be a better guide to the public's interest in organized religion. It cites one survey indicating that "70 per cent of the seats in churches are not being used on Sunday morning and probably 75 per cent of persons known as members are not supporting their churches with their personal attendance and active encouragement."

Effects of War

As to the influence of the war on church-going, the Fund authorities say "millions of young men were drawn from their homes and from normal lives at the very time when they might have been forming church-going habits. The manpower demands of war industries drew workers from their home communities and broke church ties, while the pressure of overtime work often interfered with church attendance."

In addition, the Fund study says "the trend of Sunday school membership over the past few decades does not promise a substantial future growth in church membership."

While relatively weaker days may be ahead for the churches, the Fund indicates there may be good prospects for the schools.

Progress Indicated

It says there has been steady progress in education during the past generation. (The typical enlisted man in the World War I army had 7 years of schooling while his counterpart in World War II had 10 years.) This latter figure, it says, is what "well-informed and experienced opinion" thinks should be the "absolute minimum of universal schooling."

In order to achieve this under minimum standards the study indicates it would be necessary to raise the average expenditure per pupil each year to $72 a year (in the prices of 1940).

Current expenditures by states, it says, range from $31 to $157 per pupil, with nine states spending under $50.

"To make up for our deficiencies in school buildings and equipment by 1960 and to provide all newcomers with adequate facilities," it says, "we need to increase our annual capital expenditures for schools nearly two and a half times."

Among trends in schooling which the survey notes are:

Gradual disappearance of the little one-room schools. About 15 per cent of all elementary school pupils still are in one-room, one-teacher schools in the open country, however.

Increasing emphasis on "utility" in education. This means "ordinary polite conversation" is studied instead of "pieces" to be recited, and a modern language likely to be used is learned instead of Latin.

A big postwar boom may be expected in adult education, fed in part by the need for vocational training of war casualties and the shifts of millions of persons to peacetime production.

Berlin Cafe Diners Must Rent Cutlery

By The Associated Press

BERLIN—An old and distinguished restaurant in the heart of Berlin, where some of Germany's important politicians of the imperial days used to gather, recently reopened its doors.

A hundred pairs of its fine old knives and forks were laid out for the occasion.

That was a mistake in these days when knives and forks are virtually impossiple to buy in Berlin. The guests took them all.

Now, if you want to dine in that restaurant you must make a deposit of 50 marks for the use of a knife and fork.

It is time again to clean out the medicin cabinet.

The thing to do with leftover pills is to colle them in one of those tin boxes that bandage an adhesive tape companies sell assortments of the products in. This should be done when enou leftover pills have accumulated to constitute Fibber McGee menace in the medicine cabin so that liver pills are falling out with the tooth paste and iodine.

By this time, many of the little envelopes an boxes in which the pills originally came will b torn and the directions will be gone, so it w be necessary to make a blind assortment. Do n be concerned about this because a blind assort ment is the idea. All the pills together are bette than any of the pills separately. In union the is strength.

After they have been well aged in the tin bo it is unlikely they will retain their original iden tity. They will all taste the same and can b selected at random, according to the patient desires. If feeling a bit greenish, he can take green pill, and so on.

Likewise, with the size of the pills—if he feeling a little bit under the weather he mus take a large pill, but if he is feeling like a coup weeks off with perhaps a stay in the hospit he must take a small pill. This is according t the rule that small pills are for big pains an vice versa, something all hypochondriacs lear early in the game.

For disposing of surplus nose drops, follo the same procedure. As soon as five little bottle with little droppers have been accumulated, pou what is left into a container and beat well adding whatever seems likely to clear the head Do not mind the brown color. As with leftove paint, all combination of leftover nose drop will be brown in color.

Try the brown drops on the dog or a relative if one happens to be nearby and in a condition indicating nose drops. If there is no improve ment by morning, the blend is sure-fire and d not hesitate to use some on the squeaking hinge of the bathroom door.

Also put together residual quantities of hai oil, shaving lotion, mouth wash, tooth paste tooth powder, cold cream and salve. Use thes as before, but less sparingly. This will liquidat the capital investment in these substances mor rapidly and hasten the cures to be effected thereby. The hair will have a delightful sheen. So will the gums, teeth and skin.

By the time the medicine cabinet has been cleaned out, the stomach, liver, pancreas, tons tissues, nasal passages and whatever is ailin you will be in tip-top condition and ready for big summer—tingling, rosy, soft, pliable an bristling with vitality.

50 Families Now Occupy Vets Housing Units at Lincoln Park

The last four of 50 GI families moved into the veterans housing settlement near Lincoln park today, marking the completion of a project begun more than one year ago.

The families are those of Donald Yoakum of 230 Edward street, one child; Gene Freeman of 536 Davids street, one child; Allen Baker of Waldo, one child; and William Patterson of 566 Courtland terrace, two children.

All of the housing units at the project are now filled, according to Charles E. Messenger, operator-maintenance man. The population of "Vetville" is now 100 adults and 76 children.

Some Work Remains

The only work remaining to be done is grading, some landscaping and a few minor touches to the buildings. Clarence Taylor, representative of Lloyds Builders, Inc., said he expects to finish the job within a short time.

Construction work at the project was begun last July and was plagued continually by shortage of material and labor. The city entered into the contract with the Federal Public Housing Authority in March, 1946.

The federal government furnished the land and part of the funds for building supplies. Mayor Harry L. Dowler said today he expects the city will have put about $2,500 into the project by the time it is finished. According to the management agreement, the FPHA is to reimburse the city for any amount expended up to $1,900.

Rent for each family is $29 a month. The city is to make up any deficit; any profit accruing after upkeep has been taken care of goes to the FPHA.

Used in War Time

The site of the settlement was acquired during the war by the federal government and used as a trailer camp to house war workers.

There are 25 of the steel buildings, each containing two dwelling units. The buildings were originally intended for Army use and were obtained at Marion Engineer Depot.

The buildings are of an emergency nature and the city is required to tear them down when they are no longer needed.

Meanwhile, "Vetville" is settling down into a semi-permanent community, with plans underway for a community vegetable garden and a playground for 76 offspring.

We love 'em in December as we do in May

REMEMBER the day you first romped away in that Buick of yours? How those eight Fireball cylinders fairly floated you over the hills — how those road-steady two tons of lively car answered sweetly every light touch of your hand on the wheel—how you glided along with foursquare BuiCoil springing smoothing every wrinkle in the road?

That's what your Buick was built to do. Years and years of that kind of driving are in it—especially when it gets the interested, informed car care this fine an automobile should have.

That doesn't mean just periodic lubrication, a body wash, battery check or bolt-tighten. It means thorough attention by competent Buick men — attention that keeps a Buick always a Buick.

Buicks are our babies. Even the smallest details are handled the way they should be for a Buick. We have Buick tools that do jobs better and quicker. We have men who know Buicks best. We have Buick-engineered parts that are precisely right for your car.

Put that all together and it's Buick car care.

Pretty clear, isn't it, that here is where your Buick will receive the best attention? After all, we love 'em heart and soul.

"TOP" SECRET

One of the things that play a part in Fireball snap is Buick's wafer-thin steel cylinder gasket. Just 15 thousandths of an inch thick; it's a "must" for the high compression this powerful straight-eight is designed for. Other kinds that are thicker cut down the compression and the car's liveliness.

In carbon and valve jobs, or any other where this gasket must be replaced, only this Buick gasket will assure the fit Buick engineers intended. No wise Buick owner would have any other in his engine.

Just another example of how you get more for your money — in major adjustments, tune-ups, lubrication or anything your car needs — when you make sure it gets Buick car care.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN BUNDESEN, M.D.

Penicillin in a Spray

When you speak of a cold or sore throat you mean exactly the same thing that doctors do when they refer knowingly to upper respiratory infection.

These days the solfonamide drugs are often used to treat such conditions. In the opinion of Drs. Elijah E. Menefee Jr., and Robert J. Atwell of Duke university, however, penicillin is much more advisable in many cases because so many people become sensitive to the sulfonamide drugs.

For treatment of upper respiratory infections they think the penicillin should not be taken by mouth or given by injection, but rather applied locally to the nose and throat.

In colds the nose and throat were sprayed three or four times each day for three days. Sixty-six patients were treated. It was often found advisable to use some solution in the nose such as ephedrine to shrink the nasal membranes before spraying the penicillin. It was found that this treatment was not of much value in overcoming the symptoms of a cold but apparently did aid in preventing complications such as sinus infection.

Fifty-one patients with sore throat were treated with penicillin by spraying every three hours. The patients had such symptoms as redness of the throat, and slight fever, although none of them seemed very ill. Twenty-nine of the patients reported marked improvement in their condition within 12 to 24 hours after the treatment was started.

Nine patients suffering from septic sore throat, a condition caused by hemolytic streptococci were also treated by spraying with the penicillin. All of these patients were improved within 12 hours and were apparently well with 36 hours.

It would appear that spraying with the penicillin is of great value also in clearing up many carriers of hemolytic streptococci. In five persons who were such carriers the penicillin spray eliminated the condition within two days.

Trench mouth also responded quickly to this form of treatment. Immediately upon a diagnosis, the patients were treated by spraying of the mouth and gums. Then they were given a solution of penicillin to use as a mouth wash. Within an average time of three and one-tenth days, the condition was cleared up in all cases.

Thus, it would appear that the use of a penicillin solution in the mouth and nose may be of value in a number of infections, though, unluckily, it does not do much against that greatest of nuisance-makers, the common cold.

Deputy Facing Morals Charge Not To Quit

By The Associated Press

TOLEDO, O., April 30 — One of two Lucas county deputies charged with having been intimate with a 16-year-old girl while she was in the Lucas county jail withdrew his resignation last night.

Edward Stipes and Fred O'Hara both resigned on advice of their attorneys after Assistant Prosecutor Geraldine MacLewane ordered their arrest for "acting in a way tending to cause the delinquency of the girl" April 18.

Stipes withdrew his resignation after they were released on their own recognizance.

The girl, twice a runaway from a Toledo institution, was quoted by Police Sgt. Margaret Slater with saying that she decided to submit to advances because she "had learned to hate police officers and swore she would get even with them."

She had been taken to county jail April 13 to await disposition of her escape case by juvenile court.

Love Note 'Leak' Probed by Jailers Of California Pair

By The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES, April 30—State Attorney General Fred N Howser admittedly "bewildered," sought today to determine how copies of impassioned love notes exchanged in Orange county jail at Santa Ana by Louise Overell, 17, and George Gollum, 21, had been obtained by a Los Angeles newspaper which published them

"I don't know what happened," said Howser, in charge of prosecuting Miss Overell and Gollum who await trial May 28 in charges that they murdered her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Overell, aboard their yacht in Newport harbor.

Calling the incident "regrettable," Howser said he planned to "call some of my men on the carpet."

The letters were published by the Los Angeles Examiner yesterday morning, but officials of the newspaper declined to say how they had been obtained or to discuss the matter otherwise.

The fervent love notes had been photographed by jail authorities before they were delivered to the young defendants

The notes were filled with impassioned protestations of love The examiner quoted one of Gollum's notes as saying

"Do you realize that if we are found guilty, I get killed I don't want to die I have to live for you, honey, and I am going to live for you and with you

"That is why a knowledge of the layout of that portion of the jail is so necessary If we have to do that thing, we will have only one chance No more. And will have to make good the first time" contract terms "likely will set the pattern for settlement of the telephone strike on a national basis"

He predicted that wage talks under way here might end in an agreement "in less than 48 hours" He said a national wage agreement "may provide a few cents more for the workers but it will be substantially what was granted here in Pennsylvania"

The maintenance workers involved in the Philadelphia agreement belong to the Federation of Telephone Workers of Pennsylvania, an independent union not affiliated with the National Federation of Telephone Workers, which called the nation-wide strike April 7.

The Pennsylvania union, which called its strike Friday, had asked Bell for a raise of 15 cents hourly, or $6 weekly, the same wage demand the NFTW is making

4 Unions Involved

Four unions were involved in the New York strike but, as in the case of the Pennsylvania union, none was affiliated with the National federation, hence ratification of the agreement by the NFTW is not required The agreement provides that the workers are to return to their jobs tomorrow.

Four sets of wage talks are under way in the cross-country strike with the Western Electric phase apparently making the most progress toward a settlement

Western Electric, which manufactures telephone equipment, is one of many affiliates of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co.

Wages are the main issue—not only with this union but with all other affiliates of the national federation

Henry Mayer, New York lawyer for the Western Electric Employes association, predicted last night that company would make a wage offer today.

SAY STEEL FIRMS WRECKING SCHOOLS

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, April 30—Officials of two Ohio counties declared today a number of steel corporations were seeking a new tax classification that might lead to "virtual bankruptcy" of most of the state's cities and schools

This conclusion was reached by Cuyahoga County Auditor John A Zangerle and Lorain County Prosecutor William G Wickens in connection with a request by certain steel concerns for a reclassification of some of their properties

The issue, Zangerle, explained, is this

For tax purposes, real estate is assessed at 100 per cent of valuation, whereas personal property is assessed at 50 per cent

Now steel corporations in Cuyahoga, Lorain and Trumbull counties are seeking reclassification of millions of dollars of property as personal rather than real Should this be granted, Zangerle went on, a tremendous cut in county revenues would result and the private residential taxpayer would feel the brunt.

Wickens likewise took a strong stand on the case Urging Zangerle to apply with the state court to participate in the suits, he wrote

"It may well be that even farmers' silos and every kind of specialized building adapted to a particular business will have to come off the duplicates if these cases are affirmed

"They will certainly revolutionize the tax structure of the state, impoverish hundreds of subdivisions and materially affect the operations of local government everywhere

"The assessment of all such structures as personality, at 50 per cent of value, will virtually bankrupt most Ohio cities and schools"

to the senate floor by Friday, would

1 Revise the Wagner collective bargaining act.

2 Create a new federal mediation agency and authorize court injunctions to stop or prevent strikes which imperil national health or safety.

3 Make unions subject to suit for breach of contract.

4 Set up a senate-house committee to make a study of labor-management relations.

May Compromise

Taft told reporters he has yet to decide whether to agree to a compromise on one of these amendments It would permit private employers to get court injunctions to block jurisdictional strikes and secondary boycotts

The compromise Taft is considering would permit only district attorneys to file for an injunction

The other three amendments would restrict industry-wide bargaining, outlaw health and welfare funds administered solely by unions, and forbid unions to interfere with workers in their choice of bargaining agents

Taft scoffed at talk that Mr Truman might veto the labor bill because of inclusion of any of the four amendments.

"He either will veto it because he wants to kill a labor bill, or he will sign it because he wants a labor bill," Taft told reporters.

Pittsburgh Fugitive Of 22 Years Wins Freedom Legally

By The Associated Press

PITTSBURGH, April 30 — A middle-aged carpenter, who has been a fugitive from justice for more than half his life, has won the right to legal freedom in Pennsylvania.

Judge Thomas A Marshall yesterday permitted William H. Dern Jr., 46, to go free under a writ of habeas corpus because, the judge said, he has been a "good citizen of Pennsylvania during the past 22 years."

The graying, nervous man whom the neighbors described as "reliable and honest," appeared in court to fight extradition proceedings brought by Ohio authorities for an offense he committed 25 years ago.

At that time he was convicted of grand larceny — theft of scrap brass from a building he was helping to raze Sentenced to one to seven years in prison, Dern escaped in 1922 and moved to Brackenridge, Pa., where he assumed a new name and married

Dern, a native of Canton, O., known also as William Bucksbarg, served 10 months of his sentence in Ohio penitentiary. He worked for a while in Zanesville, O., before moving to Brackenridge, Pa

Since then, Police said, he has lived an exemplary life and has worked as a carpenter on many building projects in the Pittsburgh district

A fellow worker who knew of his past, turned him into law officials and Dern was arrested and held for extradition to Ohio

Judge Marshall, in freeing Dern, said he had proved himself a "good citizen of the state" and was entitled to a "break"

"bring serious effects upon our economy."

Harry A Bullis, president of General Mills, Inc., proposed keeping excise taxes "somewhere near" their wartime level, a cut in corporation taxes from 38 per cent to 33 1-3 per cent, and a top limit on individual income taxes of 66 per cent.

The chamber unanimously passed a resolution yesterday endorsing voluntary price cuts "where and when business costs permit."

American Prosperity Formula

"More goods for more people at lower prices is the American formula for prosperity," said the policy statement, adopted only a few hours after President Truman sent a message to the nationwide business organization urging price cuts and increased production to help dispel 'the inflationary cloud now hanging over us"

Henry Ford II, sole speaker at a dinner asserted business must take the leadership in trying to solve "problems like depression and unstable employment" because government historically has failed

"Nations have turned to government controls and to dictatorships in a deliberate search for security, and all they have achieved is destitution, slavery and insecurity," said the 29-year old president of Ford Motor Company.

LARAINE DAY FACES MORE COURT ACTION

By The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES, April 30—Film actress Laraine Day faced today a further court airing of her romance with and disputed marriage to Leo Durocher, suspended manager of the Brooklyn National league baseball team.

On the stand yesterday, the attractive film player on advice of her attorney, declined to answer several questions regarding her associations with Durocher.

The action is on an order to show cause why her California divorce from her previous husband, J. Ray Hendricks, should not be set aside. After obtaining an interlocutory degree in January—from Hendricks—which will not be final for a year, Miss Day divorced him again in Mexico, then married Durocher the following day in El Paso, Tex.

Maurice Rose, one of three attorneys appointed by Superior Judge Ingall W. Bull as "friends of the court" to press the action, asked Miss Day whether Durocher had accompanied her as far as El Paso, when she flew to Juarez, Mex., for the divorce

She declined to reply when her attorney, Isaac Pacht, said

"I advise you not to answer on the ground it might tend to incriminate or degrade you."

She said she had had no discussion with Durocher about marrying him until her separation from Hendricks, and decided to marry the baseball figure only after her California divorce was granted

She testified that Durocher was on the same plane with her when she flew to El Paso but on advice of her attorney refused to say whether she had ever, since her marriage to Durocher, introduced herself as his wife

MAY REQUEST FOR MISTRIAL REJECTED

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 30—Federal Judge Henry A. Schweinhaut yesterday rejected a defense request for a mistrial in the war fraud case against Andrew J. May, wartime chairman of the house military committee, and three others.

(Little Jack) May, a former manager of the firm, had told him he and his uncle were the owner Margiotti protested that this was "hearsay testimony" and made his unsuccessful pleas to end the trial.

AGRICULTURE BOARD HITS STATE FAIR CUT

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 30 — Ohio's agriculture board went to the legislature today about the $20,000 slash in its budget request for the 1947 state fair.

A letter drafted during the board's quarterly meeting yesterday, urged the general assembly to appropriate a requested $280,000 and to ignore State Finance Director H. D. Defenbacher's recent reduction of the request to $250,000.

The board contended that the additional $50,000 is needed to cover a number of classes unfilled last summer when the fair returned after a five-year wartime lapse.

Money alloted the fair actually was a loan, since the event usually profited, the letter stated. In 1946 the fair returned a net of $160,000.

New fair assignments were given board members by Agriculture Director Frank N. Farnsworth. Department exhibits and horticulture will be under Clay Stackhouse of Wakeman, a new member. Mrs. Ruth Arnold Steva of St. Marys was assigned to fine arts and the women's building, and Edmund B. Howard of Zanesville, a third newcomer, to draft horses.

Other assignments included: C. L. Metchell of Mansfield, sheep and goats.

PILES
ARE NEVER "MILD"
DANGER IN NEGLECT
No one should ever think of (hemorrhoids) as a mild disorder.
Although they may seem a "mild" ailment, especially when not giving pain or inconvenience, piles are in fact tumor formation without tendency to heal themselves; instead, they are likely, if neglected to keep increasing in size, involving more and more of the rectal area.
Even a so-called "mild" case may be expected to undermine one's health, by inviting, predisposing to or aggravating other ailments, such as: indigestion, biliousness, stomach trouble, constipation, headaches, pain in back and down the legs, secondary anemia with its run-down tired feeling and general nervous irritability.

URGES NEWS AGENCIES BE FREED FROM ANTI-TRUST

Representative Asks Congress for New Monopoly Laws.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 30 — George C. Blohm of Chicago, representing approximately 800 newspapers, asked congress today to safeguard freedom of the press by "making it clear that newsgathering agencies may choose their own membership without violating the anti-trust laws."

The newspapers Blohm represents have organized into the "news publishers association to amend the anti-trust laws."

The association is supporting legislation introduced to clarify the status of news gathering agencies as a result of the 1945 supreme court decision in the justice department's anti-trust suit against The Associated Press.

The court directed the AP to amend its by-laws which permitted members to consider the competitive effect of an applicant for membership.

The Mason bill would specify that activities and operations of mutual newsgathering agencies are not subject to provisions of the anti-trust act.

Rev. Hertzler Quits Pastorate To Enter New Religious Field

His farewell sermon as pastor of First Church of the Brethren was preached by Rev. E. M. Hertzler Sunday morning and he wound up nearly seven years as pastor of the congregation today.

For three years associated with the National Reform association part time, in addition to his pastoral duties here, he is taking over a full time assignment with the association as field representative with his primary duties in the field of week-day religious education. He will retain his headquarters in Marion, and after June 1 he and Mrs. Hertzler and their daughter, Miss Leah M. Hertzler, a nurse supervisor at City hospital, will reside at 492 South Prospect street. He will be succeeded as pastor here July 1 by Rev. Ellis Guthery who completes his college training at the Brethren Bethany Biblical seminary at Chicago, Ill., soon.

As field representative for the national organization, Rev. Hertzler will cover the territory of the mid-west district making numerous trips in the interest of the Christian Mobilization crusade of the association.

Basis of Work

The National Reform association, founded in 1863, has a basic platform of five particular moral and religious tenets. It is an organization of Christian people of all denominations "interested in keeping public life fronted with Christian ideals, and in any movement tending to keep those ideals in the life of the nation." It's belief is that "fundamentally, America must get back to the deeper ideals of religion," Dr. R. H. Martins heads up the entire organization.

It's principal emphasis, besides week-day religious education in the public schools, is on temperance, Sabbath observance, marital counselling, and obtaining of a federal divorce law.

Through his work in assisting to establish a program of religious education in the public schools of Marion, Rev. Hertzler became active in the organization of which he is now representative. Two years after arriving in Marion, July 1, 1940, he was elected president of the Marion County Ministerial association, and in that capacity, sponsored establishment of the Marion County Council of Churches of which he was then elected first president, serving in that office the term of 1943-44. It was as president of the council that he took the lead in introducing the program of week-day religious education in the schools, and it was May 1, 1944, that he accepted the position of representing the National Reform association and in the religious education field part time.

Religious Education

Introducing week-day religious education in schools throughout his territory will be his principal occupation, added to which will be the giving of the Christian Mobilization lectures and programs on Sundays in various church services and in interdenominational union meetings. On his itinerary for this summer are trips into two widely separated states, Pennsylvania and Iowa, and in the fall he plans to work in Kentucky.

Before entering the full time ministry he taught general science and biology in Pennsylvania and New York high schools and preached from time to time when his services were needed. A graduate of the denominational Elizabethtown college at Elizabethtown, Pa., he was awarded a master of arts degree after study at Columbia university in New York City. His home was at Myerstown, Pa. First pastorate which he served was that of First Church of the Brethren at Brooklyn, N. Y., 1927-35, then he went to Windber, Pa., as pastor of the Church of the Brethren where he served until he came to Marion. While pastor in Brooklyn, he served as an agent of the general mission board of the denomination, giving any needed assistance to missionaries to Africa and India passing through the port of New York.

He came to Marion under the church board of missions, and during his pastorate here, the local church has progressed from a mission point to a self supporting congregation. The church building was extensively remodeled, and the congregation progressed in numbers and in district participation.

LIFE OF FRANKLIN REVIEWED FOR CLUB

Cleveland Utility Executive Is Rotary Speaker.

"Benjamin Franklin" was the subject of a talk by Charles Bowden of Cleveland at the weekly Rotary club luncheon meeting at Hotel Harding Tuesday. Mr. Bowden is production manager of the Ohio Public Service Co.

He commented that since his duties related to electricity it was fitting that he should have adopted a study of Franklin's career and achievements as a hobby, Franklin being generally considered the "discoverer" of electricity by means of "lightning, a kite and a key."

Mr. Bowden reviewed the life of Franklin and said that his achievements and those of other outstanding patriots of his day should provide inspiration for people of this country today and help them contribute to the preservation of its democratic institutions.

The speaker was introduced by L. W. Clauer, Rotary program chairman for April. Perl D. Lockwood, owner of the Slanser Lumber Co., was enrolled as a new member of the club. He was a charter member of the Rotary club at Midland, Pa.

R. W. Butts of Elyria was a guest of the club. Joanne Rosenberger was the student reporter from the Harding High school journalism class.

NEW TREATMENT FOR ULCERS DESCRIBED

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

Chicago, April 30—A new treatment for stomach ulcers, which in effect dusts a soothing powder over a distressed stomach, was described to the American College of Physicians today by Doctors Leo L. Hardt and Leonard P. Brodt, of Loyola school of medicine, Chicago.

The medicine, in the form of tablets, is compounded of powdered aluminum, powdered magnesium (the two light-weight metals) and mucin, which is one of the stomach's natural secretions.

All are common medical preparations, but the technique of applying them is new. The two metals are in use as antacids, meaning chemicals that counteract acidity. The mucin is mixed with them because when the powder gets into the stomach the metals cause the mucin to form a sort of paste that spreads over the stomach membranes. It does not coat completely, but it concentrates somewhat on the face of ulcers.

There is no direct medical effect. Instead the paste neutralizes stomach acids to some extent, and slows down the digestive action of the natural pepsin in digestion

Feller Guns for No. 3 on No-Hit Anniversary

Rapid Robert Calls Last Year's Masterpiece High Spot of Life

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, April 30—On the anniversary of his memorable no-hit triumph over the New York Yankees, Cleveland's Bob Feller takes the mound today against the Philadelphia Athletics in quest of his third straight victory of 1947.

Rapid Robert, who admits that his 1-0 no-hitter against the Bronx Bombers a year ago was the high spot of his brilliant career, has hurled two consecutive shutouts this season, permitting a grand total of four bingles in the pair of victories.

FELLER

However, the question before the Tribe management was "to be fenced in—or not to be fenced in?" After the lowly A's took advantage of Indians' president Bill Veeck's new barrier to edge the Tribe 4-3 yesterday.

Hank Majeski, Philadelphia third sacker, lofted a drive over the new screen in the second inning to provide the margin of victory. The ball failed to reach the stands, but settled in the "happy hunting grounds" strip of the stadium for a four-bagger.

Don Black, seeking his third triumph, walked Ferris Fain with the bases loaded in the ninth to make a gift of the winning run after a late Philadelphia rally tied the score 3-3.

Hal Peck, obtained from the New York Giants, paced the Tribe attack with a "legitimate" homer into the right field stands in the opening frame, plus an infield single in the fifth which resulted in the third Cleveland run.

Tribe officials reported southpaw Bob Kuzava, promising rookie hurler, was optioned to the International league Baltimore Orioles to "give him a chance to pitch regularly."

Softball Commission To Meet at Y Tonight

The Marion softball commission will meet at the Y at 7:30 tonight to draw up plans for the summer. The schedule for the summer and a list of the teams which will be in each of the three leagues that are planned will be announced.

GOLF COURSES OPEN BUT WEATHER RULES

Both the Country club golf course and the Mar-O-Del have been open to golfers for several weeks now but not much activity has been possible, because of weather, officials report.

The Country club plans its first Ladies day tomorrow starting at 10 a. m. The first stag will be held there May 14 and a schedule of activities for the summer will be announced soon.

Mar-O-Del officials say that nothing has been definitely set up although an inter-city match with Galion and Mansfield is in the offing.

The course is still without the services of a pro but hopes to contact one before the season gets into full swing.

BUCYRUS SOFTBALL TEAMS TO GO INTO ACTION SOON

Fifteen Teams Entered in Two Leagues; Start May 12.

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, April 30 — The softball season in Bucyrus, the church and city leagues agreeing on the week of May 12 for the opening.

The American Legion and Siferd Hosselman teams will meet in a twilight game at Aumiller field at 6:15 to be followed by a night contest between the V. F. W. and Ohio Cranes. At the Lions field a night contest is scheduled by the Lions and Lone Pine at 8:15 and a twilight contest will be played off between the Buckeyes and Moose at Lane feild.

Yesterday's Stars

By The Associated Press

Pitching, Warren Spahn, Braves—Spaced four singles in shutting out Cincinnati 6-0.

Batting, Dixie Walker, Dodgers—Drove in four runs with two singles and scored another to help Brooklyn beat Chicago 10-4.

REDS ARGUE OVER LIVELIER NL BALL

Hatton, Adams Say Yes; Miller Says No.

By The Associated Press

BOSTON, April 30—The Cincinnati Reds, particularly the fellows stationed in the infield, seem fairly well divided on the question as to whether the 1947 baseball is livelier than last season's apple.

Ford Frick, president of the National league, says it is the same spheroid, but Grady Hatton, the Reds' sophomore third baseman, declares it is livelier.

"It looks like a bullet coming down to me," said the young Texan.

"You can say the same thing for me," added Bobby Adams, second-year second baseman.

Some of the Cincinnati pitchers, especially Joe Beggs and Ewell Blackwell, believe the ball has more zip.

Eddie Miller, the veteran shortstop says: "I can't see any difference."

The question of whether the ball is livelier or not didn't bother the Reds here yesterday as they succumbed to the Boston Braves, 4-0, here yesterday behind the four-hit pitching of Warren Spahn, a southpaw.

The Bostonians got three of their runs off starter Joe Beggs and added the final off Eddie Erautt, the Pacific Coast league's 1946 star, in the eighth.

Castoff Ballplayers Get "Revenge" on Old Bosses

By The Associated Press

Castoffs Johnny Mize, Eddie Lake and Ed Stanky were licking their chops today following "vengeance victories" over their former bosses.

Mize, traded by the St. Louis Cardinals to the New York Giants in 1942, homered with two aboard in the third at the Polo Grounds yesterday. To start the Giants to victory over his former mates. The slugging first baseman has made only eight hits this season, but seven of them have been home runs.

Kennedy Winning Pitcher

Young Monte Kennedy went the route for the Giants, who vacated the National league cellar in favor of the world champion Redbirds. The Cards now have lost six straight, their longest losing streak in seven years.

Eddie Lake, the pint-sized Detroit shortstop who was obtained from the Boston Red Sox following the '45 season, banged three hits, including a triple, and scored three runs to help the Tigers defeat his former mates 8-3 in Detroit. Lake slid home on a double steal and also scored all the way from second on a caught foul fly.

Stanky, the firebrand Dodger second baseman who was shipped to Brooklyn by the Chicago Cubs in 1944, highlighted a seven-run inning with a two-run double to aid the Dodgers in a 10-6 victory over the Bruins at Ebbets field. Stanky also singled and scored two runs.

Greenberg Gets Third

Other "discarded" gents who fared well yesterday included Hank Greenberg, celebrated Detroit castoff and Bob Elliott, Pittsburgh's gift to Boston. Elliott hit three and scored once as southpaw Warren Spahn blanked the Cincinnati Reds 4-0.

Big Hank hammered his third home run for his new Pittsburgh club, with one aboard, to feature a four-run third inning which gave the Pirates a 6-2 victory over the Phillies in Philadelphia. Two American league scheduled game between New York and St. Louis and Washington and Chicago were washed out.

PHALANX, FAULTLESS STILL DERBY "BETS"

By The Associated Press

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 30—It's still Phalanx against Faultless in the Kentucky derby Saturday.

Faultless and Star Reward were only heads apart in the derby trial mile yesterday—after "The Reward" was practically left at the post and came whooping up to second.

The field is a sure 12 now, with a 13th starter possible. No. 15 would be master Mind, a Virginia-bred galloper owned by Mrs. Isabel Dodge Sloane.

Double Jay, the Delaware restauranters' blue plate special, yesterday finished fifth, and Cosmic Bomb fizzled to third after fighting Faultless for the lead for a while.

Stepfather, the $200,000 supercolossal from Hollywood ambled in fourth—but still beaten six lengths.

Faultless could be Plain Ben Jones' fourth derby winner, thereby tying him with Derby Dick Thompson for the training honors. And Ben's training miracles should be enough to overcome the hoodoo that has been riding the trial winner in the derby ever since this one-mile final preview was first thought up by Col. Matt Winn 10 years ago.

125 Sportsmen In Bucyrus Trapshoot

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, April 30.—Showers failed to dampen the spirits of approximately 125 trap shooters who were in Bucyrus Sunday for the first registered shoot of the season at the Bucyrus Gun club.

P. O. Harbage of West Jefferson and Tom Rowe of LeRoy shot a 99 to tie for the top spot in the 100 bird main event. J. B. Clymc of Tipp City and H. E. Abell shot 95 and tying with 94 were L. E. Bird, Dayton, G. A. Wagner of Dayton and A. J. Kraft of Massillon.

Honors in the handicap went to L. G. McCulloug of New Haven, V. E. Gregory of Sandusky and Dale Beebe of Monroeville all turning in 46x100.

"Whooz-It" on Armory Bill Tomorrow Night

A "whooz-it" is on the Aromry bill tomorrow night.

Back again is the Mystery Man, a masked grappler who will tangle with Rufus Jones of New York. Jones, who gave the masked man a hard time the first bout in which the two grapplers met, swears he will unmask or defeat the Hooded Wonder in the two-hour two-out-of-three fall match.

In the one hour semifinal Billy Rayburn of Atlanta returns to Marion after about four years in service to engage Duke Keomuka.

A 10 minute prelim will start things rolling at 8:30.

April Showers Take Over in Ohio State Loop

Marion's Opener, All Other League Games, Rained Out; Same Ceremonies Set for Tonight; Zanesville Due Here Tomorrow.

April showers took over in the Ohio State baseball league last night.

Marion's scheduled opening home game against the Lima Terriers at Lincoln park was rained out. All other league contests—Zanesville at Newark, Springfield at Dayton and Muncie at Richmond—shared the same fate.

Baseball hungry local fans, anxious to see their 1947 team which already owns two impressive victories over Lima, were keeping their fingers crossed, hoping the weather man would be more obliging today.

Club officials said the same arrangements for opening day ceremonies will be carried over for tonight.

Ceremonies will be brief with Mayor H. L. Dowler pitching the first ball and Safety Service Director E. O. Uncapher catching. A crowd possibly surpassing last year's record 2,500 is expected.

A color guard from the local American Legion post will participate in the flag raising at 8 p. m. Managers Burbrink of Marion and Settlemire of Lima will introduce the teams.

Should tonight's scheduled game be rained out, and the prospects of that happening seemed fairly good earlier in the day, Clay Bryant's Zanesville Dodgers will help Marion inagurate the home season tomorrow night.

The Dodgers will be here Thursday and Friday and the Newark Browns will visit Saturday and Sunday. Two games are scheduled Sunday, one at 2 p. m. in the afternoon and one at 8 p. m. that night.

"Wrestles Rufus Jones Thursday"

Another all-star wrestling card is lined up for the Marion grapple fans at the Marion Armory Thursday night. Rufus Jones, the rough colored star from New York, has signed to a rematch with the Masked Mystery Man. These two met about a month ago in one of the roughest matches ever seen here about. Rufus just about tore the mask off, this time he swears he will remove the mask or beat the one who has yet to lose a bout in this part of the country. They are matched for the best two out of three falls or a two-hour time limit.

The one hour semi-final brings back to Marion one of her favorite wrestlers, Billy Rayburn, who spent over three years in the air forces. Billy has added a little weight and looks in the best condition. Duke Keomuka, the Jap is signed to meet the fast Atlanta boy. A ten minute prelim will open the show at 8:30. Call Markert & Lewis for your best seats to this all-star program.—Adv.

MARKET FOLLOWS RECOVER LEADERS

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 30 — The stock market reached for recovery today under the leadership of steels, motors and chemicals.

Industrials pushed ahead fractions to a point on early bidding only to settle into a narrow range as activity subsided. Another flurry of demand came after noon, bringing gains ranging to 3 points. Price changes were largely on the upside near the fourth hour.

Encouraging overnight news on earnings, portal pay legislation and telephone strike developments stirred no wide response.

Showing the best advances were U S Steel, Republic Steels, Bethlehem, General Motors, Anaconda, American Can, Great Northern preferred, Union Pacific, Montgomery Ward, Du Pont, Dow Chemical, American Woolen, New York Central, U. S. Rubber, International Nickel, Eastman Kodak and American Telephone. Pacific Western Oil took a further slide after recent gains on merger talk.

LOVE'S PERILOUS PATH

By ADELE GARRISON

"I SHALL give Olga that message with pleasure," Philip Veritzen said, "and I know how grateful she will be to you. But, now, I must give you some suggestions she has made."

"I shall want to hear every word of them," my father said. "Margaret, will you please take pad and pencil and act as secretary? You can copy them formally afterward."

I hurriedly took the pad and pencil from my desk and sat down opposite Philip.

"They are very short," he said. "She agrees with you that only those things which can be put in sacks—jewels, uncut precious stones, gold and silver coins and bullion—should be removed at first.

"She says that before the debacle, the porcelains, the paintings, the sculptures and the tapestries were taken to the secret rock chambers below the castle for safe-keeping. She thinks that because of their bulk, and the fragility of some of them, there should be no attempt to remove them during the present stress. She says that if brighter times ever come, Pietro can uncover them for public museums, or sell them for money to finance the rehabilitation of the country."

There was a calm assurance in his mention of Pietro's name which told me how strong was the hope—and the intention—of both the elder Veritzens that Olga's patriotic and self-sacrificing younger son, Pietro, should be the leader of the Transvanian people when they should free themselves from the memories of first royal, then anarchistic dictatorship.

Chance Slim

"Of course," Philip went on sadly, "she realizes that there is less than a fifty-fifty chance of either Pietro or Georges being alive."

"Then," my father said quickly, "does she wish to have these treasures removed, if they cannot be turned over to Pietro, or to Georges?"

"Yes," Philip rejoined, "she wishes anything, rather than that any part of the treasure should fall into Otto's hands.

"There are three men in Transvania," he went on, "men with qualities of leadership, who could carry on a campaign for democracy if Pietro should be among the missing. Olga says that if the threat of Otto's return becomes imminent, the larger, as well as the more fragile treasures, should be removed from the subterranean chambers, even if they cannot be taken safely to other hiding places. Far better, she says, that they be destroyed than that they should serve Otto's traitorous purposes."

Shining Eyes

My father leaned forward with shining eyes, and I knew that Jack and Dicky were restraining the same impulse to applaud that I was holding back.

"I knew Olga would feel that way," he said. "Has she included the names and addresses of those three men in this packet?"

"Yes," Philip answered, "she has. The names of those three men have crosses after them, while the names of the old castle retainers who know the secret have stars after their names.

"But you understand, I trust," he went on anxiously, "that the men wit hcrosses after their names are to be approached only if Pietro canot be found and the danger of Otto's return is imminent."

"That, of course," my father said. "Tell her that I shall consult her before we get in touch with these three men, or before we order the larger treasures of the castle crypts to be removed."

"She will be grateful for that," Philip said, "but she will not expect it if time presses you. She is content to leave everything in your hands."

"I am deeply honored," my father said, "and I am sure I shall not betray her trust. But, tell me, has she any ideas about where the larger things could be spirited away from the castle, or where they could be hidden afterwards?"

"She says," Philip replied, "that, the paintings could be cut from their frames, rolled up, wrapped, and hidden beneath farm produce; that the tapestries could be rolled and hidden in the same way and that the porcelains could be packed carefully in sacks. The smaller sculptures could be removed, but the big ones would have to be smashed, and should be, if Otto's return is imminent."

The sound of the knocker put a period to his sentence. Dicky sprang to open it, and Olina, with Faith fairly prancing at her side, came into the room.

"Oh-h-! Granddaddy!" Faith squealed, and dashed into his open arms.
